JAILED FOR TELLING THE TRUTH!

"COLOURED IMMIGRATION has brought strife and decay to Britain's inner-city areas. Coloured immigration is destroying British culture and the British way of life".

Who can deny that those statements are not true. Surely after Handsworth, Brixton, Tottenham and Toxteth there is not a man or woman living in Britain who can put their hand on their heart and say "No, I don't believe it".

But in Britain today the truth stands up for very little. In fact, in Britain today the publishing of the truth is an offence as Martin Wingfield, the National Activities Organiser of the National Front has found out.

In May 1983, Martin Wingfield was a National Front candidate for Marine Ward in the Brighton Borough Council. In his election address he told the voters of Marine Ward,

"Coloured immigration has brought strife and decay to Britain's inner-city areas.

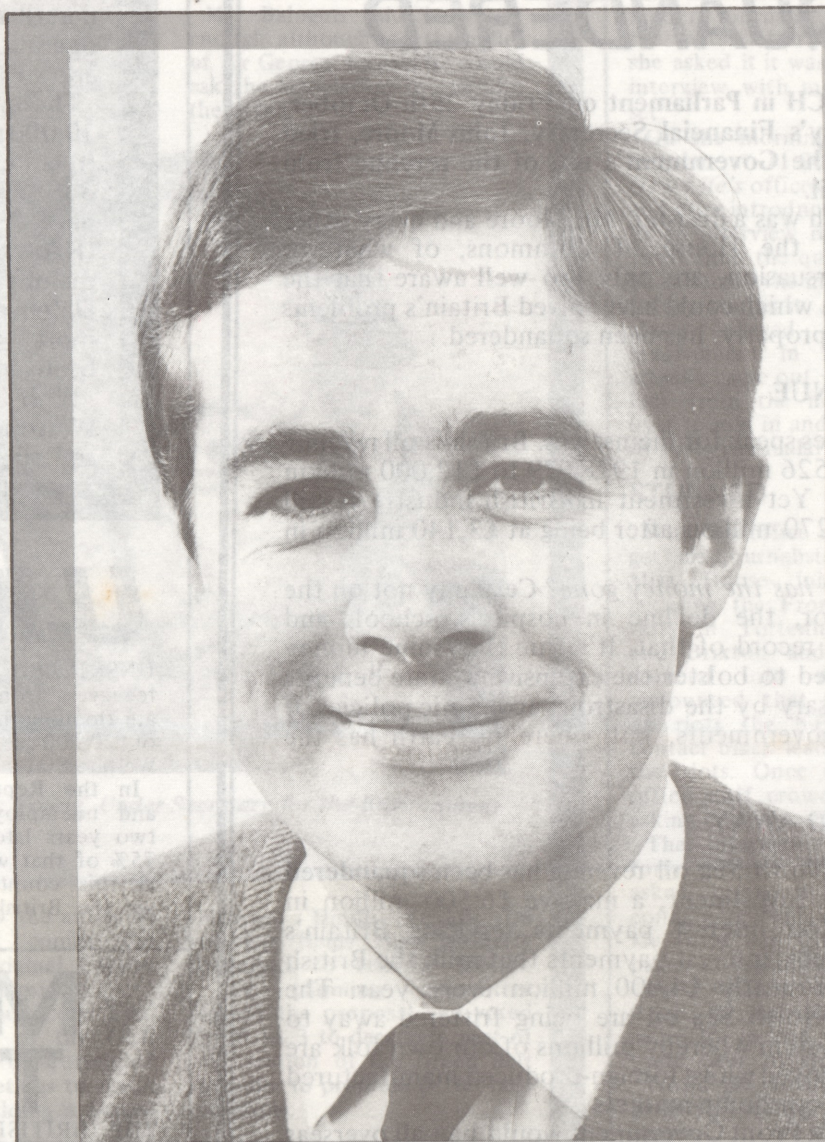

Coloured immigration is destroying British culture and the British way of life".

In April of this year Martin Wingfield was fined £1,500 for telling the truth to the British people. At Lewes Crown Court Judge John Gower said that those words constituted the worse example of inciting racial hatred that he had come across.

When a society becomes so corrupt as to fine its politicians for telling the truth then a stand has to be made. Martin Wingfield has written to the Clerk for the Justices informing him that he will not be paying the fine.

"I find myself unable to acknowledge the ruling of Judge Gower in connection with my alleged offence under the Race Relations Act. To interfere with a candidate at an election who has told the truth in his election address is not only against the tradition of Free Speech but also against every ideal of natural justice.

The riots of last month bear out everything

• MARTIN WINGFIELD: A POLITICAL PRISONER

I said in my election address and confirm my belief that a stand in principle against the iniquitous Race Relations Act must be made".

Martin Wingfield's stand means that he will be going to prison for three months. Three months in prison because he told the British people what every politician has the right to tell the British people . . . he told them the truth.

Speaking at Hoxton Market on Saturday 19th October, Martin Wingfield told East London's National Front members,

"It is now that the National Front must show to the British people that it is a strong and resolute party. We must prove to the British public that we can stand up to corrupt politicians. We must prove that we can stand up to the left-wing rabble. It is now that the British people are looking towards the National Front in the hope that we can lead them out of this multi-racial chaos".

EDITORIAL No.72. November 1985

OUR HERITAGE SQUANDERED

IN A SPEECH in Parliament on Friday 25th October, the Treasury's Financial Secretary, John Moore, tried to defend the Government's use of the revenue from North Sea oil.

His speech was a disaster. Mr. Moore and every other member of the House of Commons, of whatever political persuasion, are only too well aware that the oil windfall, which could have solved Britain's problems if managed properly, has been squandered.

OIL REVENUE

The figures speak for themselves. Britain's oil revenue rose from £526 million in 1978-79 to £12,000 million in 1984-5. Yet investment in British industry is still only at £3,270 million after being at £3,140 million in 1978-79.

So where has the money gone? Certainly not on the public sector, the decline in hospitals, schools and services is a record of that. It's true that some money has been used to bolster the extensive welfare benefits made necessary by the disastrous economic policies of successive governments, but where on earth has the rest gone?

FRITTERED AWAY

Britain's North Sea oil revenue has been squandered on Overseas Investment, a massive £6,500 million in 1982, and on interest payments servicing Britain's municipal debt; interest payments that milk the British economy of nearly £4,000 million every year. The benefits of North Sea oil are being frittered away to support a system whereby millions of our own folk are kept unemployed whilst foreign-produced manufactured goods flood our home markets.

A National Front Government would ban all overseas investment. A National Front Government would repudiate the ludicrous interest payments on our National Debt. A National Front Government would invest the North Sea oil revenue in the British manufacturing industry; updating machinery and promoting new technology while also financing the investigation of alternative sources of energy.

The squandering of Britain's North Sea oil heritage is a crime against the British people. Yet another offence that joins the long list of convictions that face British Governments since the war.

MULTIRACIALISM: A TRAGEDY FOR ALL

IT IS hardly surprising that with millions of our own people on the dole queues, with law and order visibly breaking down before our eyes and with ever expanding 'positive discrimination' schemes, that many ordinary British people become frustrated. It must often be very tempting to simply look for an easy target on which to vent such frustration, and clearly the most obvious target is the Black and Asian population currently living in Britain.

However multiracialism is as much a tragedy for them as it is for the White population. They live in a White society which rejects both them as individuals and also rejects their culture. The solution to the problems of both populations is not to attack each other either verbally or physically no matter how much the frustration builds up. On occasions even the NF has inadvertently resorted to such outbursts when angered by yet more anti-British acts by our so-called political leaders.

This is not the answer. The only permanent solution is to reject the multiracialist clap-trap of the establishment politicians and to start working for the segregation of the races pending full repatriation of all coloureds. The Blacks in Britain know that if they are to develop their culture and to preserve their traditions then they can only do so by returning to the lands from which they came.

The White people of Britain should also want to preserve our culture and our traditions, to do so we must be given back our land of which we should take care and of which we should be proud.

Racial hatred plays no part in the philosophy of the National Front which is based upon love of one's own country and respect for other people living in their own countries

DON'T LET THE I.R.A. MARCH IN LONDON

I.R.A. Terrorists

IT'S SIXTEEN years since British soldiers arrived on the streets of Ulster in what at the time was described as 'a limited' operation to restore law and order to the province.

There are now nearly 10,000 soldiers in Northern Ireland. In those 16 years 383 British Servicemen have been murdered by IRA as well as 152 members of the Ulster Defence Regiment while more than 4,000 have been injured or maimed.

With the politicians in Westminster planning to sell out the province to the Republic, the supporters of the IRA, despite their record of murder and mayhem, are free to march on the streets of Britain where only the National Front opposes them.

On Sunday February 2nd 1986, IRA members and supporters will march through London to gloat over their record of bombing, maiming and murders of British soldiers and civilians in Ulster.

The National Front will be stopping the IRA's Bloody Sunday March from taking place.

U.K.: Soft Touch

UNSKILLED AND unemployable teenagers from the Irish Republic are flooding into Britain at the rate of 20,000 a year to exploit our Welfare State.

In the Republic, social security and unemployment benefit starts two years later at 18 and is only 75% of that which can be claimed in this country. Irish youngsters see the British system as an easy touch and are here for the easy pickings.

This invasion is one of the anomalies between Britain and the Republic that a National Front government would put an end to. Another one is the right of 75,000 Republicans resident here to vote in British elections, a right not accorded to the 25,000 British living in Ireland.

MORE HARM THAN GOOD

THE BRITISH people are being conned by doctors and pharmacists who are recommending totally useless medicines to patients.

The Consumers' Association reports that many of the products on chemists' shelves to cure the common cold, on which Britons spend more than £100 million a year, do more harm than good. The Association's magazine Which, reveals that none of the brand-name medicines for colds, coughs and sore throats can speed recovery and many have unpleasant side effects.

"Decongestant sprays and drops can irritate the nose and most should not be used by people with heart condition or diabetes. Those containing anti-histamines can cause drowsiness."

Cough syrup expectorants can irritate the stomach and lead to retching and vomiting."

The reason why such substances are continued to be used by doctors and pharmacists is because of the massive profits made from the items. Well known brand name cold medicines sold for around £2.50 cost little more than 5p to produce.

A National Front government would put an end to this exploitation of the British people. Medical care and attention of the citizens of our country is the principal that would be the watchword of doctors employed by our health service not the financial gains shared with phoney medicine manufacturers.

MORE THAN SIXTY AT EDINBURGH MEETING

JOE PEARCE, Chairman of the National Front's Education and Training Department received an enthusiastic reception when he addressed more than 60 members of the National Front at a meeting in Edinburgh.

Focusing on the riots and the reasons behind them Joe Pearce exposed the hopelessness of people living in Britain's multi-racial society.

The meeting was chaired by Peter Shepherd, Secretary of the local Branch who will appear with Ian Anderson during November in a television programme about the growth of the National Front in Scotland.

FINANCE FOR EAST SUSSEX

AT A meeting to reform the East Sussex Branch of the National Front on Sunday 20th October £340 was raised to publish a local leaflet and sticker to boost the NF recruitment in the area.

A Post Office box in Lewes, the county town of East Sussex, has been opened and a Christmas Social Event planned.

VISITING

Pulling the National Front together in an area that had been dormant since 1979 is East Sussex Organiser, Andrew McKay from Hastings. He has been busy visiting old members encouraging them back to the fold. The success of his six month operation was realised at the meeting.

The current main activity of the branch is paperselling every Saturday in Eastbourne where local activists have been selling an average of thirty copies of National Front News each session, despite the efforts of local Labour Party members to dissuade the public not to buy the papers.

TURNER TALKS TO TORBAY

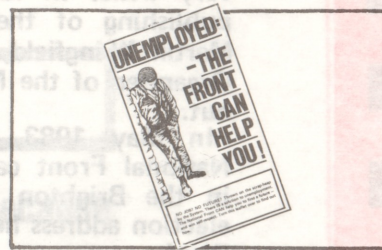

GUEST SPEAKER at a meeting of the Torbay branch of the National Front in Torquay was NF National Directorate member Michael Turner who gave a talk on the troubles in Ulster.

More than 30 members heard that an Exeter NF Group had been reformed by local organiser Kevin Lake and that a Plymouth Group would be getting off the ground before the end of the year.

The growth of the National Front in the West Country lies mainly with the hard work of the Torbay Organiser, Mark Cotterill who earlier this year set about the task making the National Front a force to be reckoned with the voters of Devon and Cornwall.

JOBLESS CAMPAIGN HITS HEADLINES

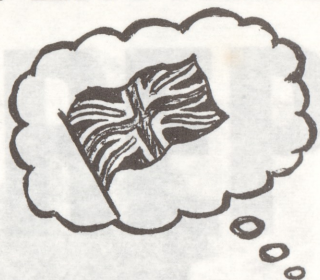

THE WORCESTERSHIRE Branch of the National Front hit the headlines of their local papers during October with their contribution to the National Front's Unemployment Campaign.

More than 1,200 NF papers have been handed out during the campaign provoking the usual hysterical response from local politicians with Labour Councillor George Randall accusing the Front of "exploiting the vulnerability of the out-of-work", while Worcester MP Peter Walker hit out at the NF's recruiting message linking unemployment to coloured immigration.

Branch Organiser, Jim Barry, has spread his campaign throughout Stourport and Kidderminster with special attention paid to the Sutton Farm and Birchen Coppice Estates.

PERSONAL

THOUGHTS

MANY LIBERALS smoke cannabis. That's a claim that comes from Liberal party official Alan Sherwell.

He was using the argument that, if Liberals do it then it must be acceptable, to campaign for police to adopt different tactics when dealing with drug offences in sensitive areas such as Tottenham, Brixton, Toxteth and Handsworth. No doubt Sherwell's proposals will go down well with the ethnic minorities living in those areas, but he's been smoking too much pot himself if he thinks it would be accepted by the rest of the British population.

PEOPLE OFTEN ask "don't you get dispirited when the NF gets such a bad press all the time?". The answer is of course we do, but it doesn't last long. You see the National Front every week gets letters which raise the moral after lies and smears about the party have appeared in the press. A typical letter was one received at the end of October from South London, it read,

"Dear Sir, my friend is aged 62 and harmless was knifed to death last week by blacks, I have not got much money but please accept this £10 to help in the fight. E.S."

The letter contained two £5.00 notes, but it wasn't the money, welcome as it was, that boosted the morale of the NF staff that day. It was the reassurance that the National Front was acting on behalf of the millions of British people like E.S. that make up the silent majority in Britain today.

REMEMBER SCARMAN'S famous quote about the success of community policing in Handsworth (Last months NF News)? Well here's another classic.

On October 4th, The Job, the fortnightly newspaper of the Metropolitan police, was boasting that despite initial hostility, neighbourhood watch schemes has drawn "massive support" and had become "a dominant factor in the policing" of a particular area of London. The area? Tottenham. The specific example cited? The Broadwater Farm Estate.

SHOWN ON television last month was a 10-part history of Time Life's cinema news magazine The March of Time. Many of the newsreels in the 1930's and 40's were banned in Britain because of their pro-Zionist line, where often the real facts took second place to what the pro-Israel lobby wanted.

March of Time also used to frequently dramatise sequences to illustrate major topics - for example, actors were drafted in to re-enact alleged Nazi brutality in the Jewish ghettos of the 1930's. Such a technique was very successful in promoting sympathy for the Jews and their causes and of course is still used today in docu-dramas such as Holocaust. While such films can dupe the gullible cinema-goer or television watcher they don't impress historians who are rapidly coming to realise some war film footage is far from what it seems. The most notable example of this was the pile of bodies of Jewish concentration camp victims (according to the newsreel) which turned out to be a pile of German victims from the bombing of Dresden!

A PROGRAMME FOR BRITAIN

UNEMPLOYMENT AND INDUSTRY

BRITAIN-A BANANA REPUBLIC?

"It is neither exaggeration nor irresponsible to say that the present situation undoubtedly contains the seeds of a major political and economical crisis in the foreseeable future. Yet the nation at large appears to be unaware of the seriousness of the predicament".

So said a report issued on 15th October by a House of Lords Committee. In other words Britain is about to become Europe's first banana republic.

For the first time for generations, Britain, the originator of the industrial revolution, is importing more manufactured goods than we are exporting. The only only thing which is preventing an immediate and drastic economic crisis is the short term, massive exploitation of North Sea Oil.

While Thatcher and Kinnock trade insults it is their political philosophies which have brought this about, for the Labour and Conservative parties have had an equal share of power in this country since the last war. Yet in 1948 Britain's share of the World's manufactured exports was over 25%, today it is under 8%. Worst of all one person in seven is now consigned to life on the dole queue.

1) INVEST BRITAIN'S MONEY IN BRITAIN'S FUTURE.

LAST year pension funds invested more money abroad than they did in British industry. The money they used was your money, but you had no say in its use.

If you look through the finance pages of any newspaper you will see adverts offering to invest your money in "High Growth Japanese Units", "European Special Units", "American Recovery Funds", etc. - all of these are helping to build factories in other countries instead of in Britain, and that means that our factories are old fashioned, new ones aren't built and jobs are lost. On top of this the new factory being built in Japan, America or Germany is likely to produce goods which will then be exported back to this country putting more people out of work.

Many supposedly 'British' companies are also investing money abroad, where there are no trade unions and where wage rates are often well below the poverty line. In this country they are often destroying families and whole communities.

On 20th October one 'British' company, Aberfoyle Holdings, announced gleefully that it is to invest £35 million in that bastion of democracy and good labour relations - Zimbabwe, where both political opponents and fighters for workers rights are dealt with by the simple expedient of shooting them.

Mrs Thatcher accelerated this flow of investment capital out of Britain by removing all currency exchange controls.

THE NATIONAL FRONT will stop all export of capital. Money earned and wealth created by British people will be invested in Britain for the good of our people and for future generations.

2) STOP FOREIGN IMPORTS NOW.

Half the cars on our roads are now built abroad, even supposedly 'British' cars such as Rover now have engines built by Honda in Japan. Vauxhall cars are estimated to be 78% foreign. The unions have shown themselves to be toothless in preventing the enormous job loss caused by these imports.

One particularly outrageous example concerns the deal struck between General Motors of America and the Transport and General Workers Union. In return for a promise to increase the output of Astra cars at the companies Ellesmere Port plant the TGWU promised not to prevent the importation of the Spanish built Nova car.

National Front News condemned this 'deal' when it was struck in 1983. On 8th October this year 2,500 transport union members downed tools to protest against the flagrant breach of this agreement by the company. While the Ellesmere Port is operating well below capacity over 30,000 Astras have been imported from Germany and Novas are flooding in from Spain.

THE NATIONAL FRONT believes all goods that can be made in this country should be made in this country, only essential raw materials and foods which we cannot supply would be imported. Stop foreign imports now!

3) BUSINESSES IN BRITAIN MUST BE OWNED BY THE BRITISH PEOPLE.

The decision to sack car workers in Dagenham is made in Detroit, the decision to close down a hi-fi factory in Wales is made in Tokyo, garage workers are fired on orders from Dallas.

Even where such decisions originate in this country they are more likely to be made in the private rooms of City financiers than in consultation with the workers - the people who actually produce the wealth of a company.

In June next year Nissan is going to open a factory in the North of England. This has been unanimously hailed by the major political parties as a major contribution to helping solve unemployment. In fact it is nothing of the sort. The factory will be largely computerised and few jobs will be created. Most of the components which go into the cars will come from abroad. Because there will be more Nissans there will be fewer Austins, Rovers, etc. and workers at Cowley and Longbridge are likely to lose their jobs. The profits from the factory will go to Japan.

The workers are to be treated just like the robots they will work with. All will have to wear the same clothes, there is a no-strike agreement and presumably there will be a company song lauding the praises of "The Nissan".

THE NATIONAL FRONT SAYS: All factories, farms and other commercial enterprises in Britain must be British owned and wherever possible by the workers in that enterprise. All foreign owned businesses will be confiscated and will be taken over by the workers within that enterprise. British people must have as great an individual stake as possible in the wealth of our nation.

4) WITHDRAW FROM THE E.E.C.

THE common market was set up to support the wishes and aims of international business and finance. That is why one of its key principles is the free movement of goods and labour.

This free movement is not designed to benefit the people of the member nations but to ensure that there are rich profits made by big business and international finance houses.

By moving people around between the member nations there is a continuous spare pool of labour which can be used by business to hold down wage rates. At the same time free movement of goods means that one factory can produce goods which can be distributed throughout the EEC putting smaller national companies out of business. These European factories are inevitably sited in the centre of Europe - Germany, Eastern France and Northern Italy - not in an offshore island like Britain. It also means that national differences in taste and consumption are destroyed.

A new initiative is now to be launched by the likes of Ted Heath to press for a politically united Europe.

THE NATIONAL FRONT believes in a diversity of cultures, that Britain should produce what it needs and that the movement of peoples should be discouraged so as to build up a sense of identity and community. Britain must withdraw from the materialist monstrosity called the European Economic Community.

LEAFLETS

N.F. Unemployment Campaign leaflets are available from Nationalist Books, 50 Pawns Road, Croydon, Surrey CR02QF. Price: 1000 for £7.00 inc post.

OPEN LETTER TO THE BLACK COMMUNITY

LEADERS OF the National Front want to hold talks with representatives of the Black community. That's the message contained in an 'Open letter to the Black community' which will be published in the November edition of Nationalism Today, the ideological magazine of the Front.

The letter, written by Nick Griffin the Deputy Chairman of the National Front makes it clear that the aim of the talks is to achieve an understanding which will bring about an effective and speedy separation of the races pending repatriation of non-whites.

Members of the Black community have themselves campaigned for repatriation and Reggae star Jah Shaka has told the music press: "If I could meet with the leaders of the National Front it would solve a lot of problems".

The Directorate of the National Front approved the letter as part of a strategy decided upon following the recent inner-city riots.

JUST SHORT OF THE RECORD

THE NEWHAM Branch of the National Front failed by just £3.00 to equal the record amount of money made from a jumble sale.

An excellent £109 was made by the East London Branch on Saturday 2nd November just short of South-East Kent's jumble sale record.

The success of this fund-raising activity must go down to hard-working committee member Jackie Cosgree, who organised the whole event; while Dave Thomas, the Branch Organiser was holding a successful papersale and leafletting session outside Upton Park, the home of West Ham Utd. F.C.

BROTHERS UNDER THE SKIN

BARNET COUNCIL are threatening legal action against Engield and Barnet National Front over a leaflet protesting against a ban on the Front using council premises.

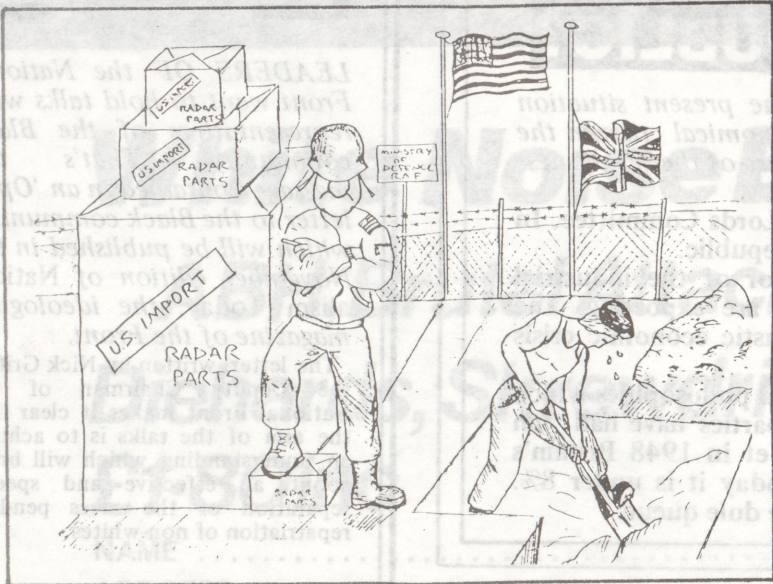

Entitled "Brothers under the Skin" the leaflet states: "Barnet Council loves the left and hates the British. That's why they've banned the National Front." The leaflet warns that the Front will not be silenced, and will use other names to get round the bans on meetings, saying "Barnet Council can't stop the truth!"

The leaflet has been condemned by Labour councillor Frances Crook who said "I would be in favour of banning the National Front entirely."

WAR GAMES

"50 THOUSAND British troops are off playing at war games in Europe and the South Atlantic while a couple of hundred brave policemen are facing the real thing in Handsworth and Tottenham. It just doesn't make sense to me". Overheard from an old soldier.

FUNNY- BUT IT'S TRUE

Shovelling the....

MORE CRACKS are appearing in our relations with America regarding their defence installations on British soil.

The latest one concerns the radar Station at Fylingdale Moor in north Yorkshire which gives a four minute warning of missile attack.

ROW

Although Defence Secretary Michael Heseltine has approved a U.S. request for a £100 million modernisation of the station a row has broken out over the extent of the British participation in the update programme.

The government had originally asked to be able to do a third of the work but this was refused by the Americans. In response to that a Ministry of Defence official commented,

"This is what is meant by British and American co-operation. They build the radar while we shovel the gravel."

The modernisation programme has also upset the Russians who see the work as a breach of the 1972 anti-ballistic missile treaty.

Once again American bases in Britain are causing us problems. The defence of Britain should be the responsibility of the British government, and any work done for the defence of Britain should be done by British workers. Having American bases in Britain just puts the British people in the front line in any conflict between America and Russia.

Tories aid the Queers' Disease

IT'S COSTING rate and tax-payers in Middlesex a total of £826,000 to enable an AIDS specialist at Middlesex Hospital to counsel and test 100 homosexual men who call at the hospital each day suffering from the disease.

While British taxpayers bear the brunt of the cost of treatment for the self-inflicted 'Queers' Disease', new Health Minister, Barney Hayhoe, has relaxed rules concerning AIDS carriers which puts the whole British population under threat.

- * No longer will doctors be able to get a court order confining an AIDS carrier to hospital.
- * No longer will there be a central register of AIDS sufferers.
- * No longer will doctors be told to trace all AIDS sufferers' contacts.
- * Bans on American homosexual magazines are to be relaxed.

To combat AIDS the British Government should be introducing stricter measures to limit the freedom of the activities of disease-prone homosexuals. AIDS poses a real threat to British families throughout the country.

DEFENDING FREE SPEECH

NF RALLY TO DEFY HOUNSLOW BAN!

● Nick Griffin, addresses the Hounslow rally.

OVER FIFTY local people attended a rally in South Street, Isleworth, recently organised by Hounslow National Front. The rally was called to protest against what local organiser, Phil Andrews, described as an "undemocratic ban on the use of council premises in Hounslow" by the Front.

More than 80 policemen were drafted in to keep order at the open air public meeting - held just yards from the hall from which they had been banned. Phil Andrews declared that the Hounslow branch would defy the ban.

"We are going to hold meetings in local council premises in Hounslow whether it's in the name of sports clubs or knitting circles. You watch them try to stop us".

Mr Andrews said that the Front was in a political war with the council: "It's a war we did not ask for but if they want a war it's a war we are going to give them".

Other speakers at the rally were Directorate members Nick Griffin, Patrick Harrington and Michael Turner who all denounced the ban. Pat Harrington asked: "Is it not ridiculous that members of the National Front are expected to contribute, in the form of rates, for the upkeep of public halls which they are not permitted the use of?"

MAESTRO MEMORIES

by Martin Wingfield

MY MOST vivid memories of Lester Piggott are recollections that make me wince and ache in the region of my pocket.

I remember clearly that June day in 1972 when Lester Piggott rode his greatest ever race, getting Roberto up in the final stride to beat Ernie Johnson on Rheingold to win that year's Derby.

I remember it so well because in those days I was a bookmaker in Epsom's Silver Ring. Rheingold was a 16-1 chance and would have won me nearly £1,000, while Roberto, the 3-1 favourite lost me £300.

Coming into the final furlong I was counting my money as Rheingold was cruising and Roberto was at the end of his tether. But somehow that magician Piggott conjured something extra out of Vincent O'Brien's exhausted colt to win by the narrowest of margins.

Lester Piggott retired last month after 38 years at the top of his trade. National Front News pays tribute to this 'legend in his own lifetime' because not only was he a complete sportsman but also because he was a credit to his sport and his country.

ABILITY

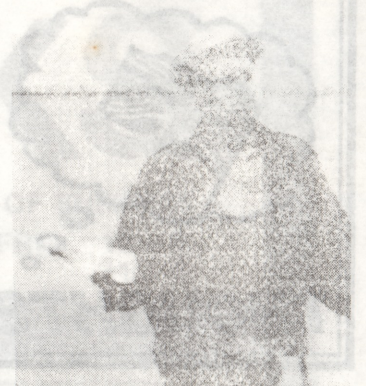

Piggott's achievements were all sporting achievements. He didn't need publicity agents, gimmicks, image makers or any of the razamataz that surrounds many of today's superstars. Lester didn't have to. He could gain all the attention he wanted by just doing his job to the best of his ability.

His total aloofness with an ever clamouring press was a delight. Who can forget the typical one-word response to gushing interviewers after each success and that half quizzical, half amused look on his drawn features as if he couldn't understand what all the fuss was about.

Racing won't be the same without the 'long fellow' in the saddle although he will no doubt make his mark in the 'Sport of Kings' as a trainer.

Thanks for those memories Lester, even if some of them are a little painful!

AFTER TOT

Living in a Black HELL

WHAT'S IT LIKE for elderly white folk living in a multi-racial Britain? Lynda Lee-Potter in the Daily Mail of October 9th gives a graphic description of life on the Broadwater Farm Estate in Tottenham. It's a description that could apply to any estate in many of Britain's inner-city areas where blacks are in the majority.

"... the white minority in places like the Broadwater Farm Estate are living in a state of siege.

Young white mothers are afraid to shop even by daylight, white men on shift work run from their cars to front doors so frequently kicked in that steel frames have to be erected around the timber and the locks.

Elderly white people on the estate are abused, spat upon, terrorised and called pigs and scum...

● A land fit for heroes?

The postman and the milkman no longer call at Broadwater Farm Estate, insurance men refuse to come and discuss claims, mini-cab drivers won't go there.

On such estates, flats are often turned into nightclubs with bouncers at the door taking money, crates of alcohol brought in, Reggae music blasting out for 48 hours at a time in a cacophony of din. The only way the white residents can cope is by drugging themselves senseless with tranquillisers. They know from bitter experience the police will do nothing.

There is open drug trafficking but drug squads have instructions not to act in case it causes a full-scale riot...

White people there do feel they are living in an alien and terrifying land and nobody will even listen to them let alone help them.

... if the pattern isn't halted within ten years London will have totally black pockets where police are impotent, where the law of the jungle rules and where no white person dare venture."

Is it hardly surprising that more than 50 families, the remaining white ones on the Broadwater Farm Estate, are all on the council's housing list requesting transfers?

TENHAM WHAT HOPE FOR BRITAIN?

REPATRIATION

It's Our Only Choice!

THE RIOT TORN inner-city areas of Britain pose a dangerous threat to future generations of British people. According to the current affairs programme Weekend World, a British government faces two choices if it wishes life to return to normality with all the mayhem of the past eight weeks put behind us.

The first option open to the British people is to return all coloured people at present living in Britain to their country of ethnic origin. Such a policy is called repatriation and it is a policy advocated by the National Front.

The second option is to follow a policy based on the American experiment of Affirmative Action, a policy which bases allocation of jobs and houses and candidates for promotion by race rather than right or ability.

In this issue of National Front News we look at the choice facing the British people

THE AMERICAN EXPERIMENT

AFFIRMATIVE Action means elevating coloured people to a class above White people. For example in the Fire Service the number of positions held by black people would be regulated by law.

A recently-hired black fireman would have preference ahead of a long-serving white fireman in order that racial quotas could be met. In the police force, pre-exam training for black applicants would be given so that when the time comes to take the entrance exam they would be better prepared than the white applicants.

In housing, certain estates would be made up of quotas of each race. When a house becomes available, a British family who have been on the housing list for years, whose ancestors spread back through British history, who may have lost sons, daughters, fathers and mothers fighting for the freedom of this country, could be pushed aside so that an Asian family, just off the plane from Bombay can take up residence in order to meet racial quotas.

ALREADY HERE

For the British people Affirmative Action is not a nightmare that is just around the corner. In Britain at the moment it is already here!! It's called Positive Discrimination. Unless something is done to stop it, within the next five years Britons will well and truly become second class citizens in their own country.

IT'S HAPPENING ALREADY OVER HERE

The Home Office is discussing measures whereby companies seeking government contracts will be required to disclose how many blacks and Asians they employ. If they don't reach the quotas laid down then they will not be given the work.

Two blacks only business centres have been set up by the government.

The centres, in Birmingham and London, will have money to lend to black and Asian people for setting up businesses, together with providing business advice and help in negotiating loans from local banks.

Further centres are planned for Bristol, Liverpool and North London.

West Midlands County Council have asked police to give special treatment to black people taking drugs.

County Councillor, Carol Yapp, told West Midlands Chief Constable Geoffrey Dear,

"The smoking of Ganja, the type of marijuana used by Afro-Caribbeans, should be treated more leniently. To Rastafarians the use of ganja is for cultural reasons. It doesn't have the same meaning for the white population."

A Home Office research paper on Community Policing suggests that policemen should let lawbreakers go if there is fear of public disorder.

A police chief who follows the recommendation is Tottenham's Chief Superintendent Colin Crouch whose patch includes the Broad-Water Farm Estate, scene of last month's riots.

"My priority has always been to prevent public disorders as opposed to arresting lawbreakers."

This might be Crouch's view but it is not the view of his officers. A Sunday Times reporter was told in no uncertain terms by Tottenham's front-line officers,

"Community policing is just another name for lax policing or no policing at all. It doesn't bridge the gap between blacks and police but simply creates a more brazen type of criminal."

BUT WILL IT WORK?

SO IF THE British people are prepared to accept that blacks and Asians get special privileges will that stop the riots? Will the problems of today disappear? Will Britain return to a country where British people can walk the streets without fear of attack?

Writing in the Sunday Times, Jon Connells reveals the result of America's Affirmative Action experiment.

"Though there are no race riots in present-day America, the country tolerates a level of violence in its inner cities that would make constant headlines in Britain. Staggeringly, more than one in three blacks who die between the ages of 15 and 24 is murdered by another black."

In Los Angeles one black is murdered by another black every single day.

The problems posed by blacks do not come from outside influences but from the blacks themselves. Connell puts it down to . . .

"Fundamental problems within the black community itself, above all, the instability of the black family."

This is borne out by Jack Fuller,

● White police violence or Black instability?

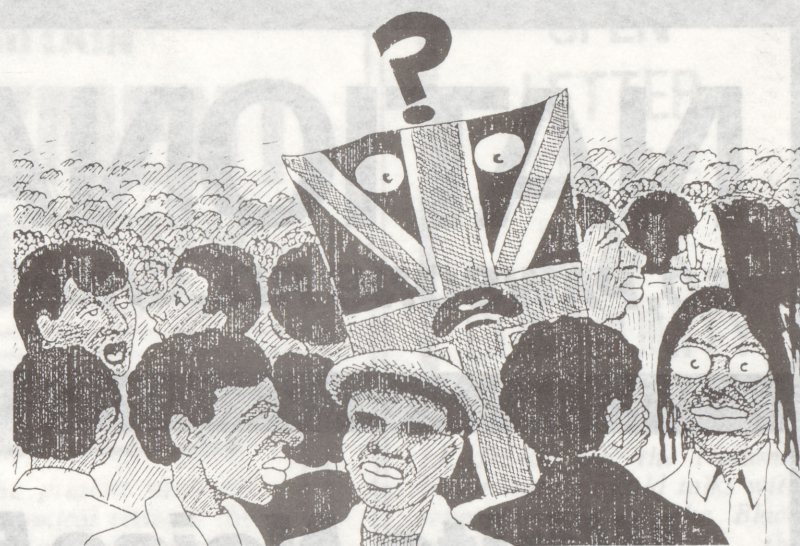

principal of Waltham Forest college. In a letter to The Times on Oct 11th he wrote . . .

"I recently spent a few weeks in Jamaica on a visit aimed at an exchange or link between young Jamaicans and young Britons. It was not a success. The sort of loud aggressive conduct seen in Brixton was there in Jamaica and the young Jamaicans committing robberies and assaults on that beautiful island could not blame white police violence or prejudice by the white minority."

The problems of multi-racial Britain, inflicted on the British people by corrupt politicians desperate for cheap labour in their quest for bigger profits, will not go away by trying to buy off Britain's coloured immigrants.

There is only one way the British Isles can return to sanity and stability and that is by electing a National Front government who will return the coloured immigrants living in Britain to their rightful homes by a policy of repatriation.

The National Front's PLAN FOR PEACE

by Nick Griffin

THERE ARE AN estimated 5 Million Coloured immigrants and their offspring in Britain. Opinion polls show that over 60% of the British people believe that they should be sent home. This figure is sure to rise even further as the multi-racial experiment collapses in riot, blood and fire, and more people realise that the National Front policy of repatriation is the only hope of peace for Britain's cities.

But the question still remains: how will repatriation take place? The answer is simple, feasible and humane.

How would they go?

- * 5 Million immigrants will be resettled abroad over 10 years at a rate of 100,000 families each year – around 5 00,000 people. British Airways carries nearly thirty times that number of passengers every year, so it won't be difficult.
- * This is under 1,500 people a day – round three plane-loads. Heathrow airport could deal with them in about 10 minutes.

How much will it cost?

- * As well as their fare home, each family will receive a £3,000 resettlement grant. This is three times the sum suggested by the West Indian run "Homeware Bound" repatriation scheme set up by the East London Black community leader Dr. Ashton Gibson in 1981.
- * That may sound a lot, but the social security programme now costs over £1,700 per family in any case (Britain 1985 – An Official Handbook, HMSO). In addition it costs the taxpayer thousands of pounds a year to keep an unemployed man and his family. Since over 17% of Blacks are unemployed, we will actually save money by paying them to go home.
- * It will also lead to a 50% increase in the number of houses being made available to new occupiers every year. This will have a dramatic impact on the housing queue and cut the money spent on expensive temporary accommodation for homeless families.

Where will they go?

- * Back to their own lands of ethnic origin or, if they wish, to developing countries such as Brazil which will welcome British-trained immigrants.

Why should they be accepted?

- * Because they belong there. But also because those countries desperately need the skills that they will bring. For example, with more than 5,000 White doctors on the dole, Britain does not need Coloured doctors, but in India they would save thousands of lives.
- * We will help these countries build up their economies. The West Indies, India and Pakistan will each be given around £300 Million every year in special aid to help them absorb the extra people. This will still cost less than is at present squandered on foreign aid.

What about their belongings?

- * Returning immigrants will be allowed to take home with them the proceeds of the sale of their homes and businesses. They will be able to set themselves up comfortably in their own lands as useful and productive citizens.
- * Immigrants who have worked and paid taxes in Britain will be paid their pensions in full even after they return home.

ONE MAN'S BATTLE TO ENFORCE THE LAW....

ILLEGAL IMMIGRANT SENT HOME!

THE CHAIRMAN OF Ealing NF, Dave Ellis, has been known to tell his fellow Committee members "we've got a mountain to climb." Yet Dave is often inspired as much by experience of the attempts to hamper our success as he is by any success itself.

Our opponents use of violence and their manipulation of the legal system simply vindicate the belief that we have right on our side. Just recently Mr Ellis was enjoying the satisfaction of a successful conclusion to a one man campaign he began a few months ago.

Mr Ellis rents a room in a house shared with other tenants. One of these tenants was a Nigerian student who Dave discovered had ended his studies but who seemed intent on staying on in Britain. Another white tenant then told Dave that he had discovered the Nigerian working as a mini-cab driver despite having no work permit. The white tenant had gone to a mini-cab office to hire a car only to find that his driver was the Nigerian. The latter was so embarrassed at being discovered that he ran and hid in the mini-cab office only to be ordered out by his boss to drive the customer to his destination.

Mr Ellis rang the police, giving details about the Nigerian and the mini-cab company. It was three weeks before Mr Ellis heard that the Nigerian had been arrested and that the police had been investigating local mini-cab companies.

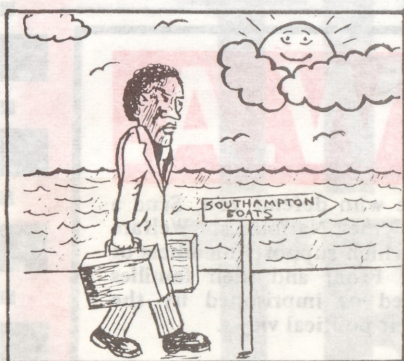

However Mr Ellis was soon dismayed to find the Nigerian had been released from police custody and was living in his room again. A rumour circulating among the tenants was that local Tory MP Sir George Young had been asked by the Nigerian to secure him a work permit. What is certainly known is that the council were considering this illegal immigrants application for a council house!

DRIVING LESSONS

More incredibly still, it seems a work permit was not the only document lacking among the Nigerians possessions. In April Dave Ellis saw the Nigerian driving a car of the Actonian School of Motoring. Ironically Dave knew the instructor and discovered that this Nigerian mini-cab driver was taking lessons in readiness for a forthcoming driving test! Even more angered than before, Mr Ellis visited Acton Police station to discover how an illegal immigrant could escape deportation and pose a danger to motorists and pedestrians by driving without a license. The police remained non-committal and simply said they would investigate the Nigerian again.

At the end of May, just when Dave Ellis thought he would have to make a renewed attempt to gain justice, he heard from his landlady that the Nigerian had been deported — the callous authorities had only been giving him time to sell the two cars he could afford to run. Mr Ellis also tells us that the Asian mini-cab company who employed the Nigerian has been sold to a White man and all his drivers are now white.

The Ethnic Grovellers

An Everyday Story of Perverted Politicians

THE GROVELLING of politicians for the coloured immigrant vote knows no bounds as their antics during October reveal.

First prize must go to the Government's Environment Under-Secretary, Sir George Young, who has come up with £170,000 just to appease a West Indian community group in St. Pauls, Bristol.

Last month it was revealed that the group had refused to accept a £500,000 purpose-built centre because it lacked 'character and atmosphere'. Mr. Rasquomba, chairman of the St. Paul's Community Association complained, "Not enough thought went into it. There was not enough consultation with the community."

So the government coughs up another £170,000 for 'some atmosphere' but even that has not soothed community feeling.

Mr. Balogun said it wasn't enough although, to the relief of Sir George, he said he would ask the association to consider the offer.

● Sir George Young, Under Secretary for the Environment

CLOSE BEHIND the antics of George Young, comes the antics of the original Labour 'looney' Ken Livingstone.

Now even though 'our Ken' isn't a member of the GLC planning committee he attended one of their meetings to speak in favour of building a Swami Narayan Hindu Temple on playing fields that formerly belonged to Harrow School.

The planning committee agreed the proposal and voted by 9 to 3 to desecrate part of the section of the Green Belt in order to promote better race relations.

INTERVIEW

Paul Nash talks to 'NewLife'

ENFIELD AND Haringey National Front has now established a regular process of sending press releases, not just to local newspapers but to most London-based publications and even some national papers.

So it was no surprise to me when I was contacted by one Ann Hoose of New Life magazine. New Life is an Asian publication whose office is responsible for producing Asian Times.

When I telephoned Miss Hoose it turned out that she had been sent a story about the National Front by an un-named source and was doing that most unheard of thing for a modern journalist, she was checking the facts. After a brief discussion she asked it it was possible to do an interview with me and a date was set.

On the morning of Friday 18th October at 11.00a.m. I arrived at New Life's offices in Coronet Street and after introductions was escorted to an interview room where a Mr. Juvat fired the questions. As would be expected the interview was lively to say the least. All the old myths about alleged National Front involvement in racial and arson attacks came out with other journalists from the newspaper coming over to join in and claim knowledge of some particular attack.

STUNNED

With the office manager trying to get his journalists back to work, Miss Hoose joined in the fray accusing the Front of starting the riots in Tottenham, Handsworth and Brixton and the office was stunned into silence when I announced that far from stirring up riots the NF were trying to contact black leaders to try to stop the riots. Once again, the entire office staff crowded around again asking more questions.

The interview lasted one hour forty minutes, during which I was asked questions on every topic concerning National Front policy. Mr Juvat had filled a great many pages of his notebook but he was clearly still not satisfied that he had it all; in fact the interview only came to an end when Miss Hoose came over to ask him to end it.

I told Mr. Juvat that I would be perfectly willing to speak to him again we shook hands and I left.

IMPOSSIBLE TO COMBAT MOULD

SPORES FROM mould in houses are a direct source of allergy and can cause asthma and other respiratory diseases.

That's the findings of the Institute of Environmental Health Officers. The mould growth, frequently found in damp, post-war municipal housing cannot be treated unless the conditions that cause it are removed.

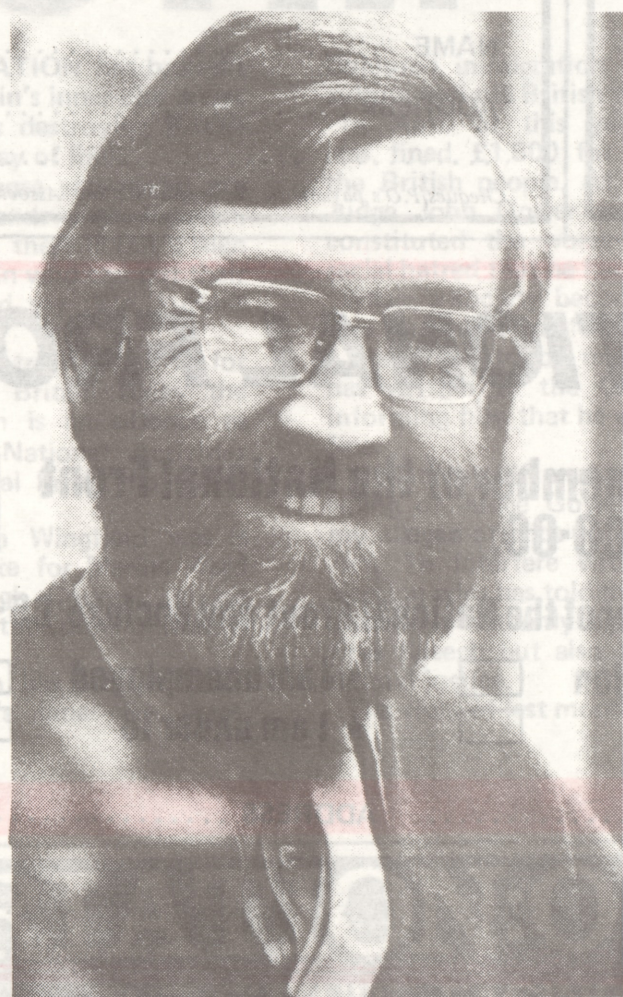

That sort of remedy would mean that councils such as Birmingham would have to spend an estimated £30 million to cure the thousands of effected homes in the city's tower blocks, an impossibility with the government's cuts on local council spending.

Backing Hanging

AMONGST ALL the waffle at the Tory Party conference it was a relief to hear some words of wisdom.

They came from Mrs. Ann West, the mother of Lesley Ann Downey, one of the victims of moors murderers Ian Brady and Mrya Hindley.

Mrs West spoke at a fringe meeting and was advocating the return of the death penalty.

RAY HONEYFORD

THE BRITISH NATION has a habit of throwing up individuals from time to time who symbolise opposition to what is wrong in our country. You don't have to agree with all their ideas to admire such individuals.

One such individual is Ray Honeyford, the Headmaster of Drummond Middle School in Bradford which is 95% Asian. By questioning the wisdom of multiracial education Mr Honeyford has infuriated the bigots who demanded that everything from arithmetic to English literature must be used as a tool to combat racism even where it distorts facts and harms the education of our children.

In an article in the Salisbury Review Mr Honeyford indicated that in a school which is 95% Asian, the education of the White children is likely to suffer. Since the original article and subsequent hue and cry from some Asians and the self-appointed leaders of anti-racist groups Mr Honeyford has inflicted further damage on a few sacred cows.

He pointed out that the high rate of one parent families amongst West Indians may be a further reason in the under achievement of their children. He also, in reaction of a hysterical diatribe from one Asian leader, referred to him as a "half-educated Sikh".

CRAWLING

The legions of worms have, ever since, been crawling out of the woodwork demanding his removal. Ignoring the interests of the children a one day boycott of schools in Bradford was called. Only 4,000 out of 16,000 Pakistani children heeded the call.

Mr Honeyford is an intelligent and articulate man. His questioning of the most basic principle of multi-racialism, that racial differences are only skin deep, has further advanced the debate about the whole concept of multi-racialism and racial integration.

We shall leave it to Britain's first Asian Lord Mayor, Mr Muhammad Ajeeb, of Bradford to have the last word. On 15th October he addressed the South Glamorgan Council for Racial Equality at Cardiff. He claimed that "work for race relations in Britain had failed. Those involved in it during the past 20 years or more must accept that what had been done was virtually nothing". We can but agree.
